NetPost™ Services — The Quick and Easy Way to Send Mail

NetPost™ Mailing Online — It's like having a post office and a professional printing and mailing service inside your personal computer 24 hours a day, 7 days a week.

Nonprofit organizations can now mail online – at nonprofit rates! Qualified nonprofit organizations can electronically transmit correspondence and newsletters along with mailing lists, to the Postal Service via www.usps.com.

The electronic files are securely distributed to printing contractors located nearest the delivery destination, where they are printed in ZIP Code order, inserted into addressed envelopes with appropriate postage, sealed, and then transported to the post office for processing and delivery. Mailing Online is available for First-Class Mail and Standard Mail, including nonprofit rates.

Another new Mailing Online feature is full-color premium postcards! We've also added full-color to the current offering of black-and-white document printing with one-spot color.

NetPost™ Certified Mail — With this new service you can verify the address, add the barcode, print and fold your letter, and complete the certification forms with just a few clicks of a computer mouse.

NetPost Certified Mail is the same as traditional certified mail, but offers convenience via the Internet. Customers can create letters — whether it's just one or a thousand, and transmit their documents electronically to the Postal Service via www.usps.com.

The certified mail system verifies the mailing address, adds the appropriate barcode, prints and folds the letter, and automatically completes the certification forms — all with just a few clicks of a mouse.

Certified mail provides a mailing receipt and a record of delivery, both of which are retained at the recipient's post office. A return receipt that provides the sender with proof of delivery also can be purchased for an additional fee.

Web Site Provides Links to Direct Mail Service Vendors —

The Postal Service Delivers the Power of Direct Mail to Small- and Mid-Sized Businesses

Small- and mid-sized businesses can harness the power of direct mail advertising to acquire and retain new customers using new services now available at our Web site.

The newest enhancement to the usps.com Web site provides links to services, creative, print, production and mail entry — everything companies need to launch successful direct mail campaigns and grow their businesses.

“Advertisers know that direct mail gives the biggest bang-for-the-buck, but small- and medium-size businesses and nonprofits often feel they can’t get in the game,” said John Ward, vice president, Core Business Marketing. “These business people are savvy enough to understand the power of direct marketing, but they often have to wear many hats, and don’t always have the time to learn how direct mail can work for them.”

“But with our direct mail Web site, they can get that information quickly, as well as find a full range of services to help them prepare their mailings. Simply put, the Postal Service is making the power of direct mail available online for these businesses on their own terms.”

The direct mail Web site has also been redesigned. It provides tutorials, templates for mailers to do their own mailings, and a list of direct mail seminars. The links for the service providers can be found on the Direct Mail Merchant page at www.usps.com/directmail.

The web site also features our own NetPost™ Mailing Online service, which lets mailers submit their creative copy online for printing and mailing.

“Once businesses see how quickly they can prepare a direct mail ad campaign, how cost effective it is for them to do so, and the return on investment they get from it, they’ll appreciate the power of the mail,” said Ward. “We want them to succeed and think our Web site and the services these vendors provide will help them do that.”

For more information on how the power of direct mail can help your business grow, go to www.usps.com/directmail.

PS Form 8125, Plant-Verified Drop Shipment (PVDS) Verification and Clearance

Hard-Copy July 1998 Version Still Valid for Customer Use

The hard-copy July 1998 version of the Plant-Verified Drop Shipment (PVDS) Verification and Clearance, PS Form 8125, still is valid and can continue to be used by customers. There is only a slight difference between the old July 1998 form, and the new January 2001 version. The old version lists Standard Mail as Standard Mail A, and Package Services as Standard Mail B.

The Materiel Distribution Center (MDC) still has a large quantity of the old forms in stock. Since there are no other significant differences between the two forms, there is no reason not to deplete the existing stock of old forms before reordering the new version.

Mailers generating their own computer-facsimiles of the form are expected to use the current January 2001 information.

DMM Correction — Documentation for Automation Letters

Effective January 7, 2001, Domestic Mail Manual (DMM) M810.1.3 is amended to correct information about when documentation is required for a mailing of automation letters.

In the DMM revision entitled “Standardized Acceptance and Verification (SAVE)” published in Postal Bulletin 22027 dated July 13, 2000, M810.1.3 was revised to require presort documentation for all mailings of 10,000 pieces or more.

Mailings of fewer than 10,000 pieces do not require documentation if the exact postage is affixed to each piece or if the pieces are of identical weight and are separated by rate at acceptance.

In the July 13, 2000, revision, a sentence near the end of M810.1.3 seemed to contradict the 10,000 piece-documentation breakpoint and should have been deleted. This sentence has been removed effective January 7, 2001.

Documentation Requirements

Documentation is required for all automation letter mailings in the following situations:

- The mailing contains 10,000 pieces or more.
- The mailing contains nonidentical-weight pieces, regardless of the number of pieces in the mailing.
- Postage is affixed to each piece at a rate other than the exact postage, regardless of the number of pieces in the mailing.

Documentation is not required for automation letter mailings in the following situations:

- The mailing contains fewer than 10,000 pieces and exact postage is affixed to each piece.
- The mailing contains fewer than 10,000 pieces, all of the pieces are of identical weight, and the pieces are separated by rate when presented for acceptance.

International Mail Manual (IMM) Revisions

International Business Reply

Effective immediately, the maximum size for International Business Reply Service envelopes is changed to 6-1/8” in height and 11-1/2” in length.

These revisions will be incorporated into the printed versions of International Mail Manual (IMM) Issue 25 and the next printed version of Publication 25, Designing Letter and Reply Mail.

The online IMM can be accessed via Postal Explorer at <http://pe.usps.gov>.

Global Package Link

Postal Bulletin 22043 dated February 8, 2001, announced that the effective date for the elimination of Global Package Link service was April 1, 2001.

The ending date was changed to allow customers time to change their manifesting systems. The final date for elimination of Global Package Link service was April 30, 2001.

Mailing to New Zealand

The individual country listing for New Zealand in Issue 24 of the International Mail Manual (IMM) incorrectly states that the Parcel Post weight limit for economy mail is 70 pounds.

The correct weight limit for Parcel Post packages sent economy (surface) mail, as well as airmail, is 66 pounds.

The table for economy mail Parcel Post rates, which can be found on page 737 of IMM Issue 24, is revised. This change to the country conditions for mailing will be incorporated into the printed version of IMM Issue 25 and the online IMM, which can be accessed via Postal Explorer at <http://pe.usps.gov>.
