U.S. Postal Service-Branded Puzzles Now in Stores Featuring Iconic Celebrities from the Hollywood Legends Stamp Series

Hollywood Legends Puzzles

WASHINGTON, DC — Six new stamp puzzles featuring John Wayne, Lucille Ball and other Hollywood Legends stamps take the puzzle out of gift giving.

Manufactured in the United States by White Mountain Puzzles, these 1,000-piece puzzles also depict images of Humphrey Bogart, James Dean, Marilyn Monroe and Audrey Hepburn.

The “Hollywood Legends Puzzles” are some of the consumer products licensed by the U.S. Postal Service. Other items include apparel, fashion accessories, packaging and shipping products, toys and games.

“U.S. postage stamps celebrate the things that make our nation great,” said Nick Barranca, Vice President, Product Development. “They remind us of America’s natural wonders, important historical events, and the people who touched our lives. Like the Hollywood stars they depict, these puzzles are sure to be popular.”

The “Hollywood Legends Puzzles” can be found at specialty retailers including: It’s a Puzzle stores, Go! Games stores, and at whitemountainpuzzles.com.

An independent federal agency, the U.S. Postal Service is the only delivery service that visits every address in the nation, 146 million homes and businesses, six days a week. It has 37,000 retail locations and relies on the sale of postage, products and services to pay for operating expenses, not tax dollars. The Postal Service has annual revenues of $75 billion and delivers nearly half the world’s mail.
