Interest Rate—Contract Claims

The Postal Service periodically publishes in the Postal Bulletin the interest rate payable on a claim decided in a contractor's favor, under the Contract Disputes Act of 1978. This rate also applies for late payments to contractors under the Prompt Payment Act, as amended.

Effective for the 6-month period beginning January 1, 1995, and ending June 30, 1995, this interest rate is 8⅛ percent.

Improved Tray Label Holders

Selection: An improved tray label holder was selected from a number of designs to replace the current label holder.

Distribution: Manufacturers began supplying new plastic MM trays, both standard and extended size, with the improved label holder in December. The improved label holder begins appearing on newly manufactured fiberboard MM trays this month. Flat trays will continue to be supplied with the old style (double pocket) label holder until current supplies have been exhausted.

Using the Improved Label Holder: When viewing the tray's label end, the label is to be inserted into the right side of the label holder and pushed to the left all the way (nearly 3 inches) into the label holder. While it is possible to insert the label from either end, labels inserted incorrectly will extend beyond the tray and could be torn off or dislodged during processing.

Supply: Initial supplies will be made available to tray manufacturers and to MTE warehouses for distribution with unassembled fiberboard trays. The materiel distribution centers will have limited quantities available mid-January 1995. Field offices needing replacement quantities should order label holder PSIN 09930-A at that time. Dispose of the old style (double pocket) label holders immediately upon receiving the new label holders.

Retrofitting: Field offices must ensure that the improved label holders are available to replace damaged label holders. Also, where feasible, the old (double pocket) label holder should be removed from plastic MM and EMM trays and replaced with the improved label holder.

DMM REVISION

Advance Payment of Annual Fees

This notice is issued to clarify the standards for advance payment of annual permit, mailing, and accounting fees. Instructions in this notice are consistent with past practice and interpretation of the Domestic Mail Manual (DMM). Information in this notice responds to mailer inquiries about paying such fees in advance, particularly before the January 1, 1995, fee increase.

This notice also repeats an announcement transmitted in December 1994 by the five rates and classification service centers. The DMM revisions shown below are effective immediately and will be incorporated into DMM Issue 49.

The annual fees for business reply mail (BRM) permit and accounting, First-Class presort, bulk third-class, fourth-class destination bulk mail center (DBMC), special fourth-class presort, and merchandise return service are due on the anniversary date of the original application or on the date of the previous year's payment, whichever is later.

Each annual fee may be paid in advance only for the next year and only during the last 30 days of the current service period. The correct fee is the fee that is in effect on the date of payment of the fee. For example, a fee due on January 1, 1995, may be paid in advance at the current (1994) fee only during December 1994. Because payment may not be made earlier than 30 days before the due date, a fee due after January 30, 1995, must be paid in the amount of the new (1995) fee.

If a fee is due in December 1994 or January 1995, payment in the amount of the 1994 fee is acceptable under either of these two conditions:

1. The payment is mailed and postmarked before January 1, 1995, but received after that date; or
2. The payment is made at the business mail entry unit (and a receipt issued on Form 3544, Post Office Receipt for Money) by close of business on December 31, 1994, but posted in the account book after that date.

DMM NOTICE

Revisions to Weight and Preparation Standards for Barcoded Letter Mail

General Information

Effective January 16, 1995, for a period of up to 1 year, the Postal Service will conduct a live test of barcoded bulk third-class regular rate letter mail weighing between 3.0 and 3.3067 ounces, and First-, second-, and bulk third-class nonprofit rate letter mail weighing between 3.0 and 3.3363 ounces. (These values increased to 3.3376 and 3.3071 ounces, respectively, when R94 rates were implemented on January 1, 1995. The increased values are used in this article and in the Domestic Mail Manual (DMM) revisions appearing below.) Notice of this test was published in the Federal Register (as a proposed rule on July 14, 1994 (59 FR 35873-35875), and as a final rule on December 22, 1994 (59 FR 65967-65971)).

Purpose and Basic Requirements

Although the Postal Service believes that this mail can benefit from barcoding (as the means of moving this mail into an automated processing environment), it also believes that this benefit can be achieved only under specific standards governing the construction and preparation of this "heavy letter mail." Thus, the revised DMM standards implemented for this test period (and published below) require that each "heavy letter" mailpiece comply with the following:

(1) Be part of a mailing that is 100 percent delivery point barcoded.
(2) Have the barcode in the address block.
(3) Be in an envelope that has no open windows.
(4) Not be bound or have stiff enclosures.

Weight Limits

For simplicity and consistency, the maximum weight for First-, second-, and nonprofit bulk third-class barcoded letter mail is set at 3.3376 ounces. For regular bulk third-class rate only, the maximum is set at 3.3071 ounces, which is its "break point." If the proposed test or changes in the break point indicate that this alignment is not in the best interest of the Postal Service, the maximum weight will be adjusted accordingly. Heavier mail is not included in this test because previous controlled tests conducted by the Postal Service revealed that increased problems (such as damage, jams, and throughput) arose or worsened with mail heavier than 3.3376 ounces.

Enveloped Mail

Only enveloped mail will be part of this test; self-mailers, bound or booklet-type mail, and tabbed catalogs are not eligible for participation in this test. In recent tests, the Postal Service verified that such pieces cause equipment jams and are more susceptible to damage. In allowing only enveloped mail in the proposed test, the Postal Service is seeking to evaluate the performance of heavy letter mail having the best opportunity for successful automated processing, insofar as that can be predicted by physical criteria.

Accordingly, heavy letter mail joining the general category of automation-compatible mail for the test period must be prepared in trays, as is currently the case for other automation-compatible letter mail. The Postal Service will also exclude from this test mailpieces above 3.0 ounces with open windows because, based on preliminary tests, they have a greater tendency to snag on automated processing equipment.

Delivery Point Barcoding

All pieces eligible for this test must bear a delivery point barcode. This requirement is necessary because routine postal processing uses optical character readers (OCRs) to handle mailpieces rejected from barcode sorters in an effort to read the delivery address and print a barcode in the lower right corner of the mailpiece. However, heavy letter mail will not run through OCRs; attempts to process and barcode such mail on an OCR revealed that significant damage occurred to the heavy letter pieces and that any barcodes printed in the barcode clear zone by the OCR were often unreadable.

The increased thickness caused the bottom edges of the heavy letter mail envelopes to be rounded and to buckle when bent. Because of the curvature and irregular surface created by the rounding and buckling of the heavy mailpiece, barcodes printed in the lower right corner of such mailpieces by the OCR were outside the working specifications of postal barcode readers and, as a result, useless for automated processing.

Together, the additional OCR processing of non-delivery point barcoded heavy letter mail, the labor to repair damaged pieces, and the ensuing manual or mechanized handling of that mail amount to unreasonable additional costs for the Postal Service, well beyond that acceptable for Barcoded rate mail. As a result, a 100 percent delivery point barcoded mailstream is being required for heavy letter mail.

Mailing Identification

To ensure the Postal Service's ability to identify, measure, and monitor heavy letter mail as it enters and moves through the mailstream, test participants will be required to take specific measures to identify heavy letter mail. Specifically, each container of heavy mail must be clearly identified when submitted by the mailer.

Pallets, general purpose mail containers, and other similar equipment used to transport trays of heavy letter mail will require labels (placards) bearing the words "HEAVY LETTER MAIL" in letters not less than ½ inch high. These labels must be white or light-colored stock, not smaller than 8 by 11 inches, and placed on two adjacent sides of the pallet or other equipment.

Revisions to Weight and Preparation Standards for Barcoded Letter Mail—Continued

Each tray of heavy letter mail must also be identified by a flag (similar to a separator card) clearly marked "HEAVY LETTER MAIL" and placed in front of the contents of the tray. No marking will be required on the pieces of heavy letter mail other than as required by the class or rate claimed, or by the postage payment method used.

Documentation of Large Mailings

Participants in the heavy letter mail test will also be asked to provide documentation for any heavy letter mailing exceeding 100,000 pieces. Requested information includes the mailer's name and contact person for test information, the mailing's contents (size, weight, volume, level of presort, and proportion of heavy letter mail), and the mailing's distribution (place(s) of mailing and destination ZIP Code ranges). This information, which should be provided to the address below at least 3 weeks before mailing, will allow the Postal Service adequate time to conduct on-site evaluation and data collection for test mail. Documentation of heavy letter mailings should be addressed to:

MANAGER CUSTOMER MAIL PREPARATION
US POSTAL SERVICE
475 L'ENFANT PLAZA SW RM 6912
WASHINGTON DC 20260-6805

Damaged Mail

If heavy letter mail is damaged in processing during this test period, the mailer will be asked to recall the damaged pieces before delivery (by completing Form 1509) to allow their examination for evaluation of both the cause of the damage and possible remedies for that cause.

Final Determination

The results of this yearlong test will determine whether heavy letter mail will be allowed thereafter in the automation-compatible mailstream. Notice of that determination, and of any DMM changes thereby required, will be published in both the Federal Register and the Postal Bulletin.

DMM Revisions

The DMM revisions effective for this test period are as follows:

Conditions Applied to Mail Addressed to Military Post Offices Overseas

Mail addressed to, from, or between military post offices overseas is subject to certain conditions or restrictions of mailing regarding content, preparation, and handling. The table below outlines these conditions by APO/FPO (army post office/fleet post office) ZIP Code through the use of footnoted mailing restriction codes, which appear on the last page of the table.

Acceptance Clerks. Use this table in conjunction with the integrated retail terminal (IRT) to determine whether an APO/FPO ZIP Code is active and what conditions of mailing apply. For Express Mail Military Service availability, refer to Handbook PO-514, Express Mail Military Service, and the local EMMS directory.

The entire table appears in the second regularly scheduled Postal Bulletin of each month. Changes occurring between issues, as well as those that take effect with the monthly issuance, are highlighted in bold print.

Delivery of GSA Nonmailable Items

Under an agreement between the Postal Service and the General Services Administration (GSA), GSA will ship all mailable items ordered by postal installations via USPS. The agreement also states that "freight shipments and nonmailable items will be sent by the most economical means that satisfies delivery requirements."

The agreement does not cover all current Federal Supply Schedules (FSSs), but will cover all new ones as they are promulgated. GSA is including a mandatory transportation clause in FSS that specifically states "other commercial services shall not be used." Contractors will be required to ship mailable deliveries to the Postal Service via USPS or use their own vehicles.

In shipping orders, GSA will consider an entire order as nonmailable if one item in the order is nonmailable and will ship via a commercial carrier. Nonmailable items are those that are hazardous, oversize, overweight, or do not otherwise meet Postal Service packaging criteria.

Attached is a list of the most common nonmailable items ordered from GSA. Requisitioners are reminded that GSA is not a mandatory source for these items. However, once an order is placed, do not refuse delivery.

Contact your purchasing service center or district materiel management specialist if you have any questions.

Hazardous Waste Reduction Program

The United States Environmental Protection Agency has established national goals to reduce the releases and off-site transfers of 17 targeted hazardous and toxic chemicals under the 33/50 program. The 33/50 program is a voluntary initiative that set national reduction goals of 33 percent by 1992, and 50 percent by the end of 1995. The chemicals included in this program are listed in Maintenance Management Order MMO-049-93, issued November 19, 1993.

A major environmental goal of the Postal Service is to virtually eliminate hazardous and toxic chemicals used in vehicle maintenance facilities, plant and distribution centers, bulk mail facilities maintenance operations, pest management, and painting operations over the next 3 years by introducing environmentally preferable substitute chemicals. Many facilities around the country have already taken action to achieve this goal by substituting nonhazardous for hazardous chemical products and operations, recycling, reusing and recovering materials, and improving general housekeeping activities. Postal managers involved with the generation of hazardous wastes must comply with the policies, regulations, and procedures found in Handbook AS-553, Hazardous Waste Guide.

Increased regulations, disposal costs, liability costs, reporting requirements, and public awareness are very good reasons to change from end-of-pipe control methods to source reduction technologies. Source reduction initiatives are economically beneficial for the Postal Service and lead to the improved quality of the environment. Source reduction techniques and technologies alone, however, will not solve the hazardous waste problem within the Postal Service. Properly trained, motivated, and empowered employees will have a significant role.

Additional information regarding suitable alternatives will be provided as they become available. For information regarding the Hazardous Chemical Program, contact Bernie Denno, environmental specialist, at Headquarters at (202) 268-6014.

Pictorial Cancellations Announcement 95-1

As a community service, the Postal Service offers pictorial cancellations to commemorate local events celebrated in communities throughout the nation. A list of upcoming events for which pictorial cancellations are authorized appears below. If available, the sponsor of the pictorial cancellation appears in italics under the date. Also provided, as space permits, are illustrations of those cancellations that were reproducible and available at press time.

People attending these local events may obtain the cancellation in person at the temporary post office station established there. Those who cannot attend the event, but who wish to obtain the cancellation, may submit a mail order request. Pictorial cancellations are available only for the dates indicated, and requests must be postmarked no later than 30 days following the requested pictorial cancellation date.

All requests must include a stamped envelope or postcard bearing at least the minimum First-Class Mail postage (32 cents per envelope or 20 cents per postcard). Items submitted for cancellation may not include postage issued after the date of the requested cancellation. Such items will be returned unserviced.

Customers wishing to obtain a cancellation should affix stamps to any envelope or postcard of their choice, address the envelope or postcard to themselves or others, insert a card of postcard thickness in envelopes for sturdiness, and tuck in the flap. Place the envelope or postcard in a larger envelope and address it to: PICTORIAL CANCELLATIONS, followed by the NAME OF THE STATION, ADDRESS, CITY, STATE, ZIP+4 CODE, exactly as listed below (using all capitals and no punctuation, except the hyphen in the ZIP+4 code).

After applying the pictorial cancellation, the Postal Service returns the envelope or postcard through the mail. Customers who want their serviced item returned under protected cover should include a larger, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

SIGN 145 REVISION

Check Acceptance Sign

Sign 145, Check Acceptance, is revised to meet Postal Service corporate identity standards and to clarify the policy on check acceptance for the purchase of postage, products, and services at retail counters. This revised December 1994 edition—reduced from 9½ by 11½ inches to 6½ by 9½ inches—also includes information on traveler's checks and returned checks.

Prominently display Sign 145 at retail counters and on customer service tables in post office lobbies. Post offices can order this revised sign from the two materiel distribution centers (MDCs) by using Form 7380, MDC Supply Requisition.
